New things, inspirational websites and lots of great wedding ideas

5 Things we love...

We love this pretty pink pin from Icecool.co.uk. They're supporting the Breast Cancer Campaign through the sale of their exclusive diamond jewellery. Why not make these pins a gift for your bridesmaids? See www.breastcancercampaign.org

Lazy Lemon Cards have a fantastic range of gorgeous handmade wedding stationery and accessories. You can visit their website at www.lazylemoncards.co.uk

We love the jewellery from Anna Lewis like this pink cluster crown (£150). See www.annalewis.com for more

Look at these cute galvanized buckets for presenting your favours – perfect for country weddings and they're 99p each. See www.theweddingshop-uk.co.uk

Don't miss this years' National Wedding Shows in September and October. See www.nationalweddingshow.co.uk or p67 for more information.

NEW PLANNING SITE FOR BRIDES IN THE NORTH

A new wedding planning website, www.mrs2be.com, has been launched to help brides in the North West plan their ideal wedding. "We have done lots of research to find out exactly what the needs of women planning their weddings are," said Wrexham based website co-ordinator Nicky Nelson, who manages the site. Mrs2be also gives members access to a number of online planning tools, including a guest list manager that enables guests to log on and RSVP online. Plus most of the information on the site comes from real brides and not just sales people, so you know you're getting honest, impartial advice.

BEADAZZLE CARDS

Wedding stationery has never been so diverse as that offered by Beadazzle Designs. They offer over 40 designs all of which can be changed to suit your own colour schemes. We particularly like their new range of floral guest books, which are personalised with your name and wedding date. We think they're perfect for Summer weddings and have a really fresh and funky look. See more at www.beadazzlecards.co.uk

GIFT LIST NEWS

There is a similarity between the wedding gifts requested by people getting married on the same day of the week, according to leading department store John Lewis. The retailer analysed the data of thousands of couples and found Monday brides are trendy travellers; Tuesday's are food lovers; Wednesday brides go for formal gifts; Thursday's like lots of bling and Friday brides are real party people, and couples marrying on the weekend are the traditional homemakers. Which one are you?
